What is Project Outcome?

We help libraries understand and share the true impact of their services and programs with simple surveys and an easy-to-use process to measure and analyze outcomes. Project Outcome is a free toolkit offering libraries access to training, data analytics, and standardized surveys that measure outcomes in key library service areas.

RUSA

The Reference and User Services Association is a network to educate, empower, and inspire its members to advance the evolution of the profession and better serve users in a continuously changing information society.

About RUSA

Core Purpose:

RUSA is a member community engaged in advancing the practices of connecting people to resources, information services, and collections.

Core Organizational Values:

- Building relationships among members from all types of libraries
- Encouraging openness, innovation, and idea sharing
- Promoting excellence in library services and resources

Vision:

RUSA is an influential and authoritative organization, essential to the work of anyone engaged in the practices of connecting people to resources, information services, and collections.

Section committees

Six sections, lots of opportunities!

<http://www.ala.org/rusa/contact/rosters>

Also ... what does it mean to be a "Section Representative" on a Division-level Committee?

- You serve as a liaison for the section, facilitating communication between the section and the committee
- You're there to bring the perspective of the section as a whole to the work of the committee, but should feel empowered to bring your own opinions and expertise
- Important to know:
 - Please do go ahead and indicate your interest through the volunteer form.
 - Section reps have the same responsibilities as a non-section representative and are expected to participate fully in the committee.

ALA has 19 Round Tables established to promote a field of librarianship not within the scope of any single ALA Division.

Round Tables are an excellent way to get involved at ALA, explore your personal interests, and ignite your passion. Each Round Table offers its own volunteer opportunities through committees, workgroups and more!

Check out opportunities and learn more about volunteering with Round Tables on the next few slides!

New Members Round Table

The NMRT is a place for members who are new to the library profession, new to ALA, or new to both. It provides career development programs, professional development grants, and networking opportunities with more experienced librarians.

Rainbow Roundtable

The RRT promotes the development, advancement, and improvement of library services and resources for LGBTQ+ individuals and their communities. It is the oldest LGBTQ+ professional organization in the United States.

Retired Members Round Table

The RMRT provides an avenue for retired or late-career members to maintain relationships, continue meaningful organizational involvement, and share skills and knowledge through mentorship.

Social Responsibilities Round Table

The SRRT works to make ALA more democratic and to establish progressive priorities not only for the Association, but also for the entire profession. It empowers libraries and library workers to recognize and help solve social problems and inequities.

Sustainability Round Table

The SustainRT encourages members to exchange ideas and opportunities regarding sustainability in order to move toward a more equitable, healthy, and economically viable society.

Not sure which Round Table to dive into? Take our quiz to find out and get ready to super-charge your collaboration.

BIT.LY/ALA_RTQUIZ

Customize your ALA journey with ALA Round Tables

Explore your personal interests and ignite your passion around issues and ideas that are impacting your library and your career. Work with other members to build the tools the profession needs, share your expertise, and learn from your colleagues.

For more information about ALA Round Tables, visit ala.org/aboutala/rts

To join an ALA Round Table, visit ala.org/join

You must be an ALA Member to join ALA Round Tables. Pro-rated dues apply when adding a Round Table to an existing membership.

CORETTA SCOTT KING BOOK AWARDS

Coretta Scott King Book Award Round Table

The CSKBART honors the legacy of Mrs. Coretta Scott King by promoting distinguished award-winning children and young adults' literature, by African American authors and illustrators that depicts the Black experience.

Ethnic & Multicultural Information Exchange Round Table

The EMIERT provides a forum for the exchange of information on library materials and resources in English and other languages, and promotes service for all ethnolinguistic and multicultural communities in general.

Film and Media Round Table

The FMRT offers a unique forum for learning about new developments in video librarianship, as well as resources for finding answers to some of the more elusive questions facing video librarians in their daily work.

Games & Gaming Round Table

GameRT is built around our shared passion for games and the use of gaming within libraries.

Government Documents Round Table

The GODORT is a dynamic forum where information professionals learn, discuss, advocate, and create scholarship around government information.

Graphic Novels & Comics Round Table

The GNCRT supports library staff in all aspects of engaging with comics, including collection development, programming, and advocacy.

Intellectual Freedom Round Table

The IFRT provides a forum for the discussion of intellectual freedom and promotes a greater opportunity for involvement among the members of ALA in defense of intellectual freedom.

International Relations Round Table

The IRRT promotes interest in library issues and librarianship worldwide, helps coordinate international activities, and develops programs and activities to further the international objectives of ALA.

Learning Round Table

The LearnRT helps veteran trainers and newcomers stay on top of trends in the field by providing valuable resources and support.

Library History Round Table

The LHRT facilitates communication among scholars and students of library history and supports research in library history.

Library Instruction Round Table

Library Instruction Round Table

The LIRT empowers librarians to become better teachers through sharing best practices, leadership and professional development, and networking.

Library Research Round Table

The LRRT aims to extend and improve library research, provide public program opportunities for describing and evaluating library research projects and for disseminating their findings, help ALA members use research techniques to make administrative decisions and solve problems, and expand the theoretical base of the field.

Library Support Staff Round Table

The LSSRT focuses on library support staff—who support staff are and what we do, as well as developing skills and support programming for library support staff on the frontlines, in the back rooms, and everywhere in between.

Map and Geospatial Information Round Table

Through community, education, and advocacy, the MAGIRT leads and inspires information professionals in their work with map and geospatial information resources.

GAMES & GAMING

ROUND TABLE

The mission of the GameRT is to provide the following:

- A forum for the exchange of ideas and concerns surrounding games in libraries;
- Resources to the library community to support the building and maintaining of library game collections;
- A force for initiating and supporting game programming in libraries;
- Create an awareness of, and need for, the support of the value of gaming and play in libraries, schools, and related learning communities;
- Create an awareness of the value of games and gaming in library outreach and community engagement plans;
- A professional and social forum for networking among librarians and non-librarians interested in games and gaming.
